See You at the Spring Book Sale!

Step Down to See Something New at the Library!

The library is bursting with excitement to be getting a new mural courtesy of the Friends of the Library from the mind of artist, Kit Collins (<https://www.facebook.com/kitschcollins>). The new mural is replacing the charming community art project from 1998 coordinated by Susan Carter which was showcased on the walls heading down the stairs to the children's and community rooms. All of the pint-sized handprints from that project now belong to adults and the cute doodles were beginning to show their age.

Ms. Collins painted 3 themes – “New Hampshire Nature,” “The Wide World of Books,” and “Local, Gone Global” – and everyone in the community was invited to vote for their favorite during the month of March. In total 376 ballots were cast, on paper or online, with New Hampshire Nature the runaway winner. A bright sun and friendly lobster, both present in the 1998 mural, will be included along with too many other delightful animals to name. Look for the adorable beaver, my personal favorite, when the mural is completed in early June.

Community art is a gift everyone can share in and we are so excited to be the site for this new piece. Thank you to the Friends for making this wonderful change possible.

More Tuffets!

Tuffets With Kerin

Little Miss Muffet sat on a tuffet ...

We all remember this nursery rhyme and while we may not have known what a tuffet (a footstool, a hassock, a low seat) was, we're sure Miss Muffet's tuffet could not have been as enticing as the one you create yourself!

Tuffets are all the rage and the colorful, fun, decorative additions to any room can be seen in numerous renditions on Pinterest, Etsy, YouTube or just by googling "tuffets."

The Friends of the Lane Library are excited to be bringing Kerin Ferrin, Certified Tuffet Source Affiliate in New England, to the library to teach her two-day workshop on tuffet making in early fall. Kerin has taught tuffet making for several years and is in demand. Each student will go home with a completed new furniture-grade tuffet that will be an enhancement and conversation piece for any room.

Class size will be limited to 6 so watch for exact dates, cost, further information, and registration details at the library.
